

EATING DISORDERS

WHAT ARE THE DIFFERENT TYPES OF ED?

Anorexia

Binge Disorder

AFRID
(Avoidant/restrictive food intake disorder)

Bulimia

HOW CAN WE SOLVE THEM?

ED are treated by a group of doctors and therapists. The therapist checks on the mental health of the patient and may give them some pills, while the doctor will make sure that no serious damage is caused to the body.

WHAT ARE THEY?

Eating disorders are when people have problems with food that the way that they eat. There are many different types of eating disorders.

WHY DO THEY HAPPEN?

There isn't a definite reason why people can get a ED. It could be by genes or the environment around them, but there are somethings that can increase the persons rate of getting an ED, such as: dieting at a young age, anxiety/ depression/ OCD, spending too much time focusing on their weight & playing sports that focus on losing weight.

